

CORPORATE & COMMUNITY WORKSHOPS

Evidence-based wellbeing training that teams actually use.

Let It Out designs and facilitates interactive, psychologist-led trainings for workplaces, schools, and communities, built to give people practical tools, not just a lecture.

Psychologist-led • CBT, ACT & DBT-informed • Tailored to your organization

Popular workshop topics

Stress-Management

Practical, evidence-based tools to spot stress triggers and build sustainable coping habits under pressure.

Mental Health First-Aid

Equipping employees with the awareness and language to recognize and respond to mental health concerns in others.

Bridging Generational Gaps

Building understanding across generations in the workplace, rooted in empathy and shared language.

Burnout Prevention

Recognizing early signs of burnout and building boundaries and habits that protect long-term wellbeing.

Parenting 101

Psychology-backed guidance for parents navigating the everyday emotional needs of their children.

Self-Expression Through Art

Using creative expression to process emotions and strengthen self-awareness — no artistic experience required.

Tailored Topics

Have something specific in mind? We design custom sessions around your organization's or community's unique needs.

Why organizations work with us

Licensed psychologists

Every session is designed and facilitated by a licensed psychologist — not a general trainer.

Evidence-based

Grounded in CBT, ACT, and DBT frameworks and current research, not opinion.

Built for you

Every session is shaped around your team, group size, and goals — never off-the-shelf.

Interactive & practical

Hands-on exercises and take-home tools, not a one-way lecture.

TRUSTED BY ORGANIZATIONS ACROSS EGYPT AND MENA REGION

Let's design a session for your team.

Share a few details about your organization and what you're looking for, and we'll follow up to design a workshop together.
